Kevin Price - Director

I started my career at the tender age of fifteen, working for a City Centre Studio in Coventry. I then went to work in several leading salons and in 1987, I opened my own.

479 works hard to stay at the cutting edge of style and new technique. We now boast a newly refurbished salon and beauty zone, recently featured in a double page spread in 'Hairdressers Journal International'

I have entered the British Hairdressing Awards twice, and have demonstrated for The Academy in London.
